The deceased is survived by two sons, Arthur Pearson, of Oakland, and Swain Pearson, of San Francisco; and one daughter, Miss Florence Allard, of Warm Springs.

GALA CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES AT MASONIC HOME TOMORROW

Christmas day at the Masonic home will be celebrated tomorrow at breakfast, dinner, supper, and around the fireside in the evening. The entire home is decorated in advance for this holiday season. A seventy-five-foot living tree in the grounds is lit from foot to tip; and annually twinkles a greeting of good cheer, not only to the residents at the home, but to all within sight of it for miles around. Every reception alcove, the dining room, the auditorium, the recreation halls are decorated with wreaths, holly, and Christmas colors.

At breakfast Christmas morning a decorated tree, sparkling with lights, greets the "family" as they enter the dining room. When all are standing at their places, a chorus of eighteen voices, members of the family, sing a Christmas carol just outside the door. Another carol is sung as they walk down the main aisle of the room, and a third as they gather around the Christmas tree. After grace they all seat themselves and open the Christmas cards—one is at each place.

Committee Thanks Those Who Helped In Sale Of Tickets

Sixty-seven dollars and twenty-five cents were raised in Washington Township by the Christmas tree drawing of the Welfare Board. Mrs. Gaylord Rose, of Pleasanton, held the winning number which was drawn at a simple ceremony in the Jane R. Clough Memorial Library last Saturday morning.

Little Miss Florence Marie Braun and Master LeRoy Moor drew the tickets from the box. Before the drawing Mrs. J. E. Thane read two poems, one written by Mrs. J. C. Shinn and the other by George L. Donovan before he died a short time ago.

The money raised will be used by the Children's Department of the Welfare Board of South Alameda County in their wonderful work of caring for needy and undernourished children in their domain.

Of the total amount raised, eleven dollars came from Alvarado, ten from Irvington, five and one-half from Decoto, six from Newark, eleven dollars and seventy-five cents from Centerville, three dollars and twenty-five cents from Mission San Jose, and nineteen dollars and seventy-five cents from Niles.

The sale of tickets for the drawing was in charge of the Ways and Means committee, composed of Mrs. P. A. Ellis, Chairman, Mrs. W. H. Ford, and Mrs. J. R. Whipple all of Niles. They solicited the aid of various other women in the other cities to conduct the sales in each locality. The committee especially wishes to thank all these women who helped with the sales, and also Mr. Marshall, for his assistance in the Niles sales campaign.

At the Christmas dinner at noon presents are distributed to each one with a personal card attached. The presents come from the home and each package contains a number of useful and pleasing articles, there being sixteen in each gift box. Besides this an envelope with a ten-dollar bill is found at each place, personally addressed. The Christmas dinner includes turkey, sage dressing, sweet potatoes, asparagus, jiblet gravy, oranges, nuts, and plum pudding with real old fashioned sauce. The dining room is decorated with red bells hanging from each chandelier and a Christmas wreath in each window.

After the evening meal the family gathers in the reception hall and, with a crackling fire in the fireplace, enjoys an evening of informal entertainment. Vocal and instrumental music by members of the home with other forms of entertainment complete a full Christmas day.

Oakland—$75,000 structure to be constructed north of Seventeenth Street.

Away with Skeptics This Is Christmas Time

Skeptics should hide at Christmas, for the world has no place for them.

Those skeptics who decry the giving of gifts forget that the three wise men spent days in preparation and gave all their possessions to present gold, frankincense and myrrh to the Christ child.

Those skeptics of Christ, Himself, glow with a gracious spirit that is on this day unaccounted for with cold logic.

There are skeptics of religion, skeptics of creed, skeptics who believe the Christmas celebration is a foolish hangover of pagan days.

We brush them aside now, for we are radiant-ly caught, gloriously enmeshed in the heartstrings of the season. The goodwill, the fellowship and the kindness we often feel, but dare not express at other times, lest we seem sentimental, we may, in this season, share in generous measure. For this is Christmas.

The skeptics that may bother us through the year worry us not at all now. Our responsibilities—yes, we still carry them, but they are lighter; our sorrows are still near, but softened; the road ahead still steep, but we have added strength.

So, from our sense of the realities of Christmas, we wish you, who have so kindly received us these past years a happy and a merry Christmas.

CEREMONY DISPLAYS IMPRESSIVE RITUAL OF ODD FELLOWSHIP

ACID VAPORS INJURE MAN

An explosion in the plant of the California Chemical company at Newark Monday evening severely burned one man with acid fumes and imperiled twelve others.

The clothes of A. Mickey were burnt from his body by the fumes, which were released when a connecting tube between two acid retorts blew out due to "back pressure."

One wall of the building was wrecked by the explosion and a fire was started threatening the whole plant. The Newark fire department was called and succeeded in putting out the blaze.

The acid which caused the accident is taken from San Francisco bay waters and is used in the manufacture of ethyl gasoline, according to officers of the company.

An investigation has been started by company officials to determine the cause of the explosion.

Saturday Night Dedication Gives Insight Into Works of Order

Before a large and appreciative audience the dedicatory ceremony marking the opening of the new Odd Fellows Hall was carried out last Saturday evening.

The Grand Master of the State of California, Floyd E. Hushaw, of Fresno officiated at the ceremonies with S. D. Giffin, Grand Marshall of the Grand Lodge, performing the ritualistic ceremony. Roy Rose and H. L. Scott of the local branch of the order took respectively the parts of Grand Warden and Grand Chaplain. Other parts including those of the Heralds of the North, South, East and West, the Rebekah Matron, and Chevalier of the Patriarchs Militant, as well as the ladies accompanying the four Heralds were taken by members of the Niles Lodge and Niles Rebekah Lodge. The arrangements of parts and drill work were under the supervision of A. E. Metzker, of Mission Peak Lodge, the District Deputy Grand Master for this district.

Upon the arrival of the Grand Master and Mrs. Hushaw together with Giffin and E. M. Bishop, Grand Trustee of the Grand Lodge, they were met and welcomed by a committee from the local lodge and the Rebekah lodge and after being conducted through the building were the guests of honor at an elaborate supper served at the Florence Cafe. Others present at the supper were Tony Mezza, Dr. R. H. Bennett and Roy Rose representing the subordinate lodge, and Mrs. Fournier representing the Rebekah branch, Mrs. Fern Mitte, District Deputy President, and A. E. Metzker, District Deputy Grand Master.

During the ceremony, which was open to the public, the building of the altar and dedicating the Hall to the "uses of Odd Fellowship, the diffusion of the principles of Benevolence and Charity, the inculcation of Fidelity and the exaltation of Universal Justice" the entire work was carried out in a manner highly appreciated by all witnessing it.

The Grand Master in his address painted a word picture, and in picturesque language told of the outstretched hand of Odd Fellowship and the work of the order, in each community, banding together loyal workers to assist each other in friendship, love, and truth. He extended a cordial invitation to those present who were not members to seek further into the good works carried on by the Order.

After the ceremony was completed a buffet luncheon was served in the banquet hall by the ladies of the Rebekah lodge. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour to the music of the Niles lodge's own "haywire orchestra."

FORTY USED CARS ARE STRIPPED OF ALL ACCESSORIES

Thieves Break In Door To Reach Autos in Essanay Building

Forty cars stored in the old Essanay building on the north end of Main street were stripped of all easily removable accessories last Wednesday night. The cars were the property of the Rose Garage and had been moved there from the garage warehouse on Wednesday.

The cars were used cars that had been taken over by the garage on "trade-ins" and other deals. Ed Rose, owner of the garage, had them moved to the Essanay building, which he now owns in order to relieve crowded conditions in the warehouse.

According to Rose, thieves gained admittance to the building by breaking in a rear door and a window. Batteries, tires, radiators, wind-wings, and other equipment which could be removed without much difficulty was stolen. Every one of the forty cars was practically stripped of accessories.

Rose is offering one hundred dollars reward to anyone furnishing information leading to the arrest and conviction of the thieves.

WELFARE BOARD REPORT OF LAST WEEK CORRECTED

Committee Overlooks J. C. Penny Donation In Report

In the Welfare Board report last week there were two items which need explanation. They were the items which read:

A Welfare Ship Member.....$10.00

A Welfare Ship Member.....2.00

As an organization the ladies pledged two dollars per month. As individuals they have already said they would give twelve dollars and twenty-five cents per month. As there are only eleven members and two associates this is an average to be proud of.

In last week's article a very fine box of clothing donated by the J. C. Penny Company, of Hayward, was forgotten by the compilers of the report. It was one of the best boxes ever received by the board, being full of new, practical things and remnants that could be made made up in many ways.

SHOW CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Organization Plans Testimonial Dinner For Judge Quinn

Clothing and toys for children of needy families in Pleasanton will be furnished this Christmas through the courtesy of the Pleasanton Lions Club, it was announced by officers of the organization this week. It was found by the club that there were but very few families in Pleasanton who are actually in want and that there are three outside groups planning on furnishing them with bountiful Christmas dinners and therefore the club plans to give clothing and toys.

At the meeting of the club this week at Ratti's Restaurant, a total of $50 was raised by the club members and their guests to augment its regular charity fund. The money was raised by an auction of Christmas presents.

Each member of the club brought a gift costing not more than twenty-five cents, which were auctioned off by A. B. Pickard for prices ranging from fifty cents to two dollars. After all the presents had been disposed of the Christmas tree was knocked down for four dollars. Added to this was various sums received from bouquets with which John Ratti decorated the tables, the auctioneer handing them out to the highest bidder.

The Christmas presents ranged from baby pacifiers bought by Crawford Letham, and a piece of Salami purchased by Louis Fuchs.

The committee which was given full power to act upon the matter furnishing the toys and clothing for the needy children in Pleasanton is composed of T. H. Silver, chairman; Rev. Father Timothy Galvin; Rev. Mr. R. C. Cross; and John J. Amaral.

There will be no meeting of the club Christmas week. The following Tuesday, however, the club will give a testimonial dinner to Judge P. C. Quinn, who is retiring from the bench after nearly a score of years of service. A committee composed of Chas. A. Gale, chairman, Father Tim-

BURGLARS TRACED FROM NEWARK TO MISSION SAN JOSE

Thieves Escape In Mission Car With Loot From Newark Drug Store

The same gang of thieves broke into two stores, two garages, stole two cars, and attempted to force their way into a third garage in Washington Township late Thursday night or early Friday morning. They escaped with one of the cars and some fountain pens and pocket knives from a Newark drug store.

They started operations in Newark by breaking into Reynold's grocery and Trinidad's meat market, which are both in the same room. From the meat market they took some tools which they used to enter Nordvik's drug store next door.

There they spent considerable time searching among the drugs, probably for narcotics officers believe.

The articles missing from the drug store were some pocket knives, fountain pens, pencils, watches, and flashlights.

The thieves then evidently attempted to steal the car from the garage of the Steinhoff home. One-half of a double garage was broken into and found to be empty. The lock on the other door had been tampered with but had withstood all attempts to break in.

They finally succeeded in making off with the machine belonging to William Laudenschlager, of Newark. It was later found in Mission San Jose, out of gas.

Reports from Mission San Jose showed that a garage had been broken into and the office ransacked, evidently in search of the keys to the gasoline pump. Failing to find them the thieves continued on their way in a car belonging to John Turner.

Constable Tom Silva and Manuel J. Bernardo answered the burglar alarms turned in from both cities and are now working on the case.

WILL ROGERS IN CHRISTMAS PLAY AT FOX OAKLAND

Christmas brings many things but none more delightful than Will Rogers in "Lightnin." The world's favorite humorist will appear in Broadway's favorite play at the Fox Oakland theater Thursday.

No better Yuletide entertainment could be found anywhere than in this Fox Movietone picture which offers funny drawing Will as "Lightnin" Bill Jones, chronic tippler and the laziest man in California. Here's a small idea of what it's all about. Rogers manages a country hotel which sets squarely on the Nevada-California state line. All the young and pretty divorcees live in the hotel's Nevada wing. The other guests reside in the California half. It's one of Bill's duties to keep everybody happy and contented. With the divorcees he doesn't have a bit of trouble. In fact, he gets along so well that he presently finds himself in the divorce court. However, that's just one of the things that happens in this infectiously funny story with its numerous complicating events, its suspense, its love interest and its laughter. Louise Dresser, Sharon Lynn, Joyce Compton, Joel McCrea and Helen Cohan have supporting roles.

Fanchon and Marco's gorgeous "Moonlight Revels" idea with a brilliant cast of artists, the Sunkist Beauties and Hermie King and his orchestra holds the stage. Announcement also is made of the Fox Oakland's annual New Year's Eve Frolic starting at 11:30 p. m. Twenty special features, favors, balloons, whistles and plenty of whoopee are promised. Seats may be reserved now by mail.

Auto Blazes in Front of High School Monday

Centerville Fire Truck Extinguish Blaze; Small Damage

An auto driven by Frank Perry, of Irvington, caught fire in front of the Washington Union high school Monday afternoon. No one was hurt and little damage was done.

The car backfired through the carburetor and ignited the oil and grease on the side of the engine. The accident happened about two o'clock.

An alarm was turned in and the chemical truck and four men from the Centerville fire department with Assistant Chief Frank Madruga in command responded. A hand extinguisher quickly put out the flames. Ignition wiring burnt from the engine was the only damage.

TWO DRUNKS ARE ORDERED OUT OF PLEASANTON

Two more drunks and disturbers of the peace were saved a sojourn in the county jail, Pleasanton, because of the fact that the prison is filled to capacity already, when Judge C. A. Gale, of that city, suspended a 60-day sentence on the condition that they get out of town and stay out.

The men were Frank Sullivan

Again, Chevrolet and General Motors have utilized their combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

The new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

This great value is the outcome of four basic Chevrolet advantages: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen immense, modern plants. (2) The economies which result from great purchasing power. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close association with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer a car with a longer wheelbase—greater roominess and comfort—strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury—more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater dependability. And to pass on these savings of efficient manufacturing to the buyer in the form of lower prices!

THE DOUBLE CROSS

W.N.U. SERVICE

by A.E. THOMAS

Copyright, By Dadd, Mead and Company, Inc.

Two persons enter into a conspiracy against a third one. One of the conspirators is not true to the compact. Secretly he informs the third party or takes other action that defeats the conspiracy and throws the burden on his trusting partner. Such is the origin of the term, double cross. It has had various modifications and applications until it has come to mean almost any underhanded gaining of confidence and subsequent betrayal. Beginning as a slang term, it was too expressive to remain so, and is now a recognized figure of speech. A singularly wicked form of the double cross is the basis for this story. A man proves recalcitrant to the most sincere form of friendship, recalcitrant to the partner who held him in the closest regard, aided him over rough places, paid his debts and persistently excused or overlooked his faults. The most dastardly action was when the false friend came between the true one and the woman he loved.

Written by a successful playwright, the story is essentially dramatic, crisp in dialogue and realistic in action. The metropolitan setting is used with fine effect to produce atmosphere and characterization. The absorbing elements of the plot are more fascinating, tinged by a vein of subtlety and mystery leading to an unexpected climax near the end. The story might appropriately be termed the triple cross, for the double crosser himself becomes the victim of one whom he trustingly took into his enterprise.

CHAPTER I.—Jim Stanley, wealthy young New York business man, unable to concentrate in his dictating to his desk telephone, has the machine taken to his home, intending to finish his work there. Rollin Waterman, his business partner and closest friend, comes in. Both men are avowedly in love with Doris Colby Stanley, whom they both love. Colby Stanley proposes they toss a coin to determine which of them shall that evening, first ask her to marry him. Waterman wins.

CHAPTER II.—Nina Morgan, Waterman's secretary, also his mistress, has overheard his conversation with Stanley and resents Waterman's plans to desert her. Waterman tells her he is practically penniless and must make a rich marriage. He urges Nina to go to Doris and tell her (Nina) he has been wronged—but by Stanley. The girl consents, on Waterman's promise to take care of her.

CHAPTER III.—Doris admits to her father her love for Stanley and Waterman, and is sure they are both in love with her, but she is unable to make up her mind which to marry.

CHAPTER IV.—Nina goes to Doris with her story, securing a promise that Doris will not reveal the matter to her father. Stanley convinces Doris of his duplicity, and leaves her broken hearted, and realizing that it is Stanley she really has loved.

CHAPTER V.—Waterman that evening asks Doris to marry him, and she, believing Stanley unworthy, accepts him. According to the arrangement, Stanley appears, to learn his rival has won. He accepts the situation, and as a wedding present gives his share of the business to Waterman. Next day he arranges with his secretary, Frank Wilson, to take charge of his other business interests. He is going to India.

CHAPTER VI.—Doris, unable to put Stanley completely out of her mind, tells Waterman part of Nina's story. He promises to "try" to find the girl, so that full reconciliation can be made. Waterman is deeply in debt to a gambler, Bromfield, and the latter promises to help him. Waterman quiets him by the news of his engagement to the wealthy Doris Colby.

CHAPTER VII.—Waterman makes a financial arrangement with Nina which will insure her silence. CHAPTER VIII.—Frank Wilson, who has long been aware of Waterman's crooked business methods and his debts, sees Nina at the wedding, and is aroused in him. He leaves Waterman's employ. The latter begins to importune Doris for money, ostensibly for the "business" but actually for gambling purposes.

CHAPTER IX.—At Waterman's urging Doris wears her magnificent diamond necklace, which had been her dead mother's, to the opera. That night Frank Wilson, making him a likely party to get information about the gems, and is apparently satisfied with the results of Bromfield's efforts.

CHAPTER X.—Stanley returns to New York with an East Indian friend, Swami Ramanara. Doris realizes now that she loves him, and always has. Made desperate by Waterman's conduct she suggests separation or divorce. Waterman refuses to consider either. Stanley calling on Doris feels all his old love for the girl awakened. He invites her and Waterman to his country home the following Saturday. Tossing with the auditions which had been in use in Stanley's old office, the machine reproduces the conversation Waterman had with Nina Morgan when the conspiracy was arranged, and Stanley's eyes are opened.

CHAPTER XI.—Doris' father gives Stanley details of Waterman's misconduct, including the theft of Doris' diamonds, which Bromfield had recovered. Waterman had used them to pay gambling debts. Mr. Colby entrusts the gems to Stanley. Doris tells Jim of Stanley's charge against him and he easily convinces her of its falsity. Feeling that both of their lives have been spoiled, Stanley determines on exposing Waterman's treachery.

an effort. "I beg your pardon, I'm a little unstrung tonight—I haven't been very well."

"Perhaps you smoke too much."

OPERETTA PROVES TO BE HUGE SUCCESS

The operetta, "The Court of Santa Claus," which was presented by the children of the Sunol Glen school on Friday evening, December 12, was well attended. The children were in costume and all took their parts in first class shape. The costumes were under the sponsorship of the Sunol Parent-Teachers' Association with Miss A. Wiegand in charge. The school auditorium was packed with parents and friends of the school children.

After the operetta Santa Claus distributed popcorn, oranges and a large Christmas stocking of candy and nuts to all of the children who were there.

Everyone enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Masquerade Dance Is Well Attended

The masquerade dance held at the Sunol school auditorium, Saturday evening was well attended and nearly everyone from Sunol in particular was masked. The Huddleston orchestra was in fine form and the music was all anyone could wish for.

The costume, "Saturday night," worn by Mrs. J. Rankin, and the costume, "The Chinaman, with the Long Pipe," worn by H. A. Johnson, were given prizes as the most unique. The costumes worn by Mrs. G. Roraback and Mrs. A. Silver as "Amos and Andy," and the "Bundle Stiff," worn by Albert Lewis, were given prizes as the most original.

A. C. Day won the door prize. All of the prizes were turkeys raised on the Frank Barrett ranch. Anyone attending a dance at Sunol is assured a good time.

P. T. A. HOLDS SPECIAL MEET

The Sunol Parent-Teachers' Association held a special meeting of the executive board Monday afternoon to close all business so as not to hold over any old business into the new year. A very good account of the operetta was given and all bills were ordered paid. There were several Christmas stockings yet to be delivered and Mrs. Day and Mrs. George Buttner were appointed a committee of two to attend to this at once. The Parent-Teachers' Association at this time wanted to thank all who helped to make the operetta a success.

Present Jail Is Held To Be Unfit For Lodging of Prisoners

Probabilities of a new jail for the City of Pleasanton are very possible as the council is considering asking bids on a new prison within the near future. The present bastille of the community has been declared by the public, unfit for human habitation.

A visit to the city prison reveals that there is no way in which it may be heated, that there are no sanitary utensils, and that the inside of the jail is not in a very clean condition. The city has been at considerable expense in buying blankets, which the prisoners and those given shelter have a habit of stealing.

Until a few days ago there was no provision for locking the prisoners in the cells, with the result that the blankets were passed out through the wide bars of the door to friends on the outside.

Council met in special session Tuesday evening to consider the proposition. One firm has made the city an unusually reasonable offer for a first class modern jail unit which will fit into the present prison building.
